rose 'The Ancient
Mariner' (Ausoutcry)

Welcome

We would love to welcome you to Ruxley Manor this springtime, there is so much going on with our bigger plant area, our new and improved Food Hall and a great range of outdoor furniture - you'll need a cup of tea in The Mulberry Tree to recover!

SPRING INTO ACTION

Spring is nature's time for planting and with over fifty plants featured in the magazine we've got something for every garden from top tips on how to plant a climbing rose to what plants to pick if you want fragrance all year.

PUT ON THE PERFECT EASTER SPREAD

Bank holiday is a great time to gather together all the family and enjoy the very best food and wines. We've picked out some of our favourite items to help you put on the perfect Easter ensemble on pages 26 - 27. From delicious dinners, to creative decorations we've got everything you need to put on the perfect Easter feast.

COMPLETE YOUR GARDEN

No garden would be complete without the stylish furniture options to enjoy your meal on – from classic to contemporary, we've featured our favourites for this season on pages 30 – 35, with options to suit any sized space.

We look forward to seeing you in store soon.

Best wishes.

The flower of love

Fill your senses with the power of roses, and bring colour, fragrance and a hint of romance to your garden

Lady of Shalott

Compact and ideal for a pot, the elegant salmon pink and orange flowers appear from summer to autumn. Height & spread: 1.35m x 1.2m (4½ft x 4ft). Available from March

Nothing beats the timeless beauty and alluring scent of a rose. There's a variety to suit every location or occasion – and the choice of forms and colours just gets better every year. Whether you are looking for the right shrub to brighten a container or border, a romantic climber to create a garden feature, or a special cut-flower variety, you'll find it here.

PLANTS & PLANTING/ROSES

Precious Love and Precious Gold
(below left) height & spread:
70cm x 70cm (2 1/3ft x 2 1/3ft).
Available from March

PERFECT FOR POTS

Roses in the 'Precious' series (above and left), available in a range of colours, will thrive in a container. They out flower other varieties for longer periods of the year, with greater health and repetition.

SCENTS OF OCCASION

For a special gift, the rich yellow flowers of David Austin rose 'Golden Celebration' or coral blooms of 'Jubilee Celebration' will stay fresh long after the big day. Both have delicious fragrances and will bloom for months.

GROW YOUR OWN BOUQUET

The 'Timeless' series of scented, repeat-flowering roses (left) have been bred for cutting, and come in cream, pink, and purple. The compact plants will grow in any fertile soil in a sunny spot. Other elegant cut flower choices are David Austin roses 'Lady of Shalott' (page 5) and 'Queen of Sweden'.

how to PLANT A PATIO CLIMBING ROSE

1 Add some grit to the base of a large pot (with drainage holes in the base). Top up with John Innes No 3 compost.

2 Slip the rose out of its pot and plant in the centre of the new pot. Bury the raised bump (graft union) on the stem.

3 You can add a clematis as a companion for extra colour. Plant beside the rose, with the lower stems below the surface.

4 Carefully lower a decorative frame over the plants, making sure you do not damage the roots in the process.

5 When the frame is in place, carefully remove the plants' cane supports. Then tie the stems to the frame with twine.

6 Add a few nemesias around the edge of the container. Firm in all plants and water well. Keep well watered.

Scent for all seasons

Don't forget scent when planning your beds and borders. One or two scented plants will add a new dimension to the garden, and there are varieties for every season. Here are our favourites Scent is a powerful sense, conjuring up happy memories and lifting your spirits. It transforms a beautiful garden into a relaxing space that soothes stress and heightens feelings of wellbeing. All you need to enjoy these benefits are a few fragrant plants. We have a wide range to choose from for every season and every garden size, and if you don't have a patio or garden, you can add scent to a window-box with some fragrant daffodils, hyacinths and nemesias. To bring year round fragrance to your garden, here's a beautiful selection to try.

Enchant garden visitors this summer with the delightful perfume of a Philadelphus arbour or arch

SPRING FRAGRANCE

This magical season brings a host of scented plants. New for 2019, look out for Clematis 'Blue Musk', with climbing stems of almond-scented, lilac-blue flowers. Pair it with fragrant lilacs (Syringa), the evergreen Mexican orange blossom (Choisya), and Viburnum carlesii for a heady mix.

SUMMER SCENTS

The summer heat intensifies floral aromas. Use honeysuckles (Lonicera) and star jasmine (Trachelospermum) to twine round pergolas, and include English roses, such as 'Gertrude Jekyll', which are famed for their fragrant blooms. In June, mock oranges (Philadelphus) waft perfume into the air.

LATE YEAR AROMAS

Many fragrant flowers open in autumn and winter. Border phlox offers a subtle scent in early autumn, while the tiny blooms of sweet box (Sarcococca) provide perfume in midwinter. Viburnum bodnantense 'Dawn' and Mahonia media will fill the air with fragrance in winter, too.

SPRING

FOR 2019

Clematis 'Blue Musk' unusual due to its strong almond scent.

Syringa vulgaris 'Madame Lemoine' flowers May to June.

Choisya x Scented Gem is one of the best for spring fragrance.

Viburnum carlesii produces white flowers from pink buds.

SUMMER

Lonicera 'Fragrant Cloud' ruby red and white honeysuckle.

Trachelospermum 'Pink Showers' is a fresh pink variety.

Rose 'Gertrude Jekyll' has bright pink perfumed blooms.

Philadelphus 'Belle Etoile' has citrus-scented white flowers.

WINTER

Phlox paniculata produces scented flowers in autumn.

Sarcococca will surprise you with its intense winter scent.

Viburnum b. 'Dawn' is a tall shrub with pink winter blooms.

Mahonia media 'Charity' has clusters of golden flowers.

Fantastic foliage

The latest contemporary containers can look stunning filled with lush, leafy displays

Tiarella
'Raspberry Sundae'

Pots of leafy plants add a touch of class to any patio or balcony, and can be just as striking as their floral counterparts. Look for varieties that catch the eye with their leaf colours, shapes and textures, and include a few evergreens for year-round colour, even in winter.

Not all leaves are green and some, including heucheras, New Zealand flax and Japanese maples, come in a surprising range of bright hues. Team them with our latest lightweight containers for an arresting display.

To add sparkle to your foliage, mix and match with seasonal flowers, such as pansies, violas and primroses, either planting the blooms and leaves in the same pot or separately.

Soft touch The velvety silver leaves of Senecio 'Angel Wings' and lush berry tones of Heuchera 'Wild Rose' are a bold pairing in deep faux granite Granito pots.

Shady customers

Fancy-leaved (L to R) Coniogramme emeiensis 'Golden Zebra Grass', Podophyllum 'Spotty Dotty' and Rumohra variegata 'Leather Fern' look perfect in Granito pots.

Plan the perfect border

Follow our simple guide to create an inspirational, flower-filled border that is full of colour and interest throughout the seasons

We all want a garden that looks colourful no matter what season it is, but how can you achieve this? There are a few basic rules that will help to guarantee success, and the first is to make your beds and borders as wide and long as possible. Skinny beds of just 30-60cm (1-2ft), for example, will only provide space for one or two plants, so when they have stopped flowering, there may be nothing else to look at.

Then make a list of the plants you have seen and like; you will find lots of inspiration in this magazine, in books or in-store. Check when they flower or fruit, and include plants for each season as well as a few evergreens.

Also check the plants' full height sizes: some may look like little twigs when you buy them in spring, but could grow up to a metre (3ft) within weeks. Finally, sketch out on a piece of paper the shape of your proposed border, and where you plan to plant each flower, tree or shrub, with the tallest at the back.

Below: The border just after planting.
Right: a digital impression of what it will look like in bloom by summer

how to PLANT A BORDER

Mark out the border, remove any turf, dig over the soil, and fork in well-rotted manure.

Set out your plants on the bed. Put large plants at the back and leave space for growth.

Dig a large hole for each plant, about twice as wide as the pot and just a little deeper*.

Gently take plants from their pots. Tease out any congested roots. Place in the hole and backfill.

Make sure the plants are planted at the same depth as they were in their original pots.

*Check the planting information on the plant label for each specific plant

Firm the plants in with your foot to remove air gaps. Then water each plant, soaking the soil.

Add a 5cm (2in) layer of bark ('mulch') to help suppress weeds and retain soil moisture.

Wood you like something different?

Natural wood is a classic part of outdoor furniture and although it looks great it can be vulnerable to the weather, our new furniture range will make these worries a thing of the past.

This year at Ruxley Manor we've included furniture that can withstand the elements and requires less maintenance for your convenience.

Introducing the Supremo Carina range, featuring the new Resysta material. Resysta is an eco-friendly, wood effect material that is made from ground rice husks, re-engineered with rock salt and mineral oils to give a product that looks like wood but is resistant to fungus and termites and will not crack or split – even during a typical British summer! Featuring hand-woven weave for the table base and large dining chairs this range is the future of garden furniture.

For premium casual relaxation and outdoor dining the Supremo Amelia range is perfect. With its ceramic glass laminate table-top it is weather and heat resistant, so ideal for dining straight from the barbecue. There's no maintenance needed for the woven weave legs and chairs and includes all-weather cushions.

To find out more about our range of Outdoor Furniture, which includes everything from grand relaxation sets to ornate bistro style ensembles to fit any space and design, look online or pop in and speak to our Furniture expert Lynn, or one of the team who will be happy to help.

The ultimate Easter feast

Mouth-watering ideas to help you put on the perfect Easter spread

Bank holiday is a great time to gather together all the family and enjoy the very best food and wines. We've picked out some of our favourite items to help you put on the perfect Easter ensemble. From delicious dinners, to creative decorations we've got everything you need to put on the perfect Easter feast.

← COOK raspberry pavlova (serves 8-10) £13.00

THE ULTIMATE EASTER FEAST

This Easter make it extra special by visiting our new butcher, the Butcher of Brogdale, located in our renovated food hall. Their succulent leg of Kentish spring lamb is great for feeding a crowd and goes perfectly with roasted baby new potatoes, spring greens and honey glazed carrots – all available in our newly renovated Food Hall. Look out for our voucher special offer (located on page 51) on a whole Kent leg of lamb RRP £40.00 Offer Price £20.00!

If you are in a hurry don't miss the COOK range of delectable desserts. Our favourite is this raspberry pavlova, a light roll packed with fresh cream and raspberries, dusted with icing sugar.

To top it all off try a glass of the Hush Heath Manor Pinot Noir, with a perfumed nose of vanilla, leather, red berry, raspberry and strawberry, it's the perfect pairing with roast lamb. Hush Heath are an award winning vineyard producing the very best wines Kent has to offer. Take a look at our extensive wine, beer and spirits range, with over sixty wines, fifty beers and our brand new gin boutique you will be spoilt for choice.

For an after dinner treat our newly opened Deli counter offers a fantastic range of Kent and international cheeses from the light and easy to digest Golden Cross goats cheese made in Eastbourne to the award winning Winterdale Shaw, a traditional unpasteurised hard cheese which is chilled in the North Downs for ten months to bring out its melt in the mouth cheese and onion tang.

FEELING EGGSTRAVAGANT?

Whilst the roast is browning in the oven, don't forget to sneakily hide your Easter eggs around the garden for the little ones to discover. These super cute Lindt milk chocolate bunny boxes are sure to put a smile on their face, along with these Gisela Graham bunny felt bags which are perfect for little hands to start their hunt. But choccies aren't just for the kids, so don't forget to treat yourself to something extra special, it is Easter after all!

THE FINISHING TOUCHES

Bring some of the spring sunshine into your home by decorating your home for Easter. From twig wreaths to hanging Easter decorations our Lifestyle Department has some beautiful decorations to compliment your home.

For more spring inspiration go to www.ruxley-manor.co.uk or visit us in-store.

Flights of Fancy

Let's talk about the birds and the bees and the butterflies

With warmer weather bringing the sounds of birdsong and buzzing back to our gardens, spring is the perfect time to create wildlife havens in our gardens.

Following harrowing figures of the decline of the UK's winged wildlife in 2017 it should now be everyone's responsibility to step in and help create an environment in which our animals can thrive.

Creating a wildlife friendly garden is nothing more than choosing supportive flora varieties and creating features to enhance the habitats of our flying friends:

1. BIRD FEEDERS AND WATER

It is fledgling season for our feathered friends and birds cannot store the amount of calcium needed to make egg shells in their bodies, so at breeding time, when they are ready to lay their eggs, they need a plentiful source of calcium...fast!

Alongside our range of bird feeders and bird baths we have Peckish Nesting & Young Bird Seed Mix on offer packed with Calvita, a calcium supplement, and all the protein to support breeding birds and throughout spring.

To find out more about supporting local birds join our celebrity speaker Matt Brash, from the BBC's Autumn Watch, on the 9th of April talking about feeding wild birds in the UK and speak to Ruxley Birdcare expert David.

2. MAJESTIC MEADOWS

A meadow is simply a mix of grasses and seasonal wildflowers. Maintenance is low but the value to bees, bugs and butterflies is high. Since the 1950s we, as a country, have lost 96% of our wild meadows and have seen a decline in our vital bug population due to loss of habitat. Our Wild Flowers Classic Meadow Mix is perfect to sprinkle in your garden to help reclaim some space for wild meadows.

3. PLANTS FOR POLLINATORS

The Royal Horticultural Society have undertaken extensive studies to understand the optimal plants for pollinators, such as bees, in our gardens. They have created this logo to help you identify plants and flowers that will support pollinators in your garden. Flowers like the crocus provide pollen and nectar throughout their season and will make a beautiful addition to your flowerbed. Look for this bee logo when purchasing your plants!

4. THE BUG AND BREAKFAST

A bug hotel or simply a pile of rocks or dead wood can create a beautiful feature in your garden and offer refuge to many varieties of bugs. Pop in store to see Ruxley's own bug hotel in the Outdoor Plant department for inspiration and read our how-to on our website.

For more information on creating a wildlife friendly garden or advice about plants that will help our wildlife thrive pop in and speak to Ian, Ruxley's Plant Expert, or one of our Garden Angels.

Fire up the flavour

You'll be amazed at the versatility of our latest BBQs and grills, so isn't it time you took alfresco eating to the next level?

Nothing tastes better than the first BBQ of summer. And the most seasoned outdoor chef is in for a treat in 2019. Our range of grills is more innovative than ever. In particular, the Weber® Spirit series of gas barbecues – with two or three burners – offers endless menu options.

THE GBS DIFFERENCE

Opt for the ingenious Weber Gourmet BBQ System (GBS), and you'll want to barbecue every day. Use the super-hot Sear Grate to seal in the flavours of meat, fish or veggies. Or give poultry lovers a thrill with Weber's Beer Chicken recipe (opposite), using the GBS Poultry Roaster.

PERFECTLY DONE

Whatever type of barbecue you are using, you can ensure meat reaches the ideal serving temperature with the iGrill – an app-connected thermometer that monitors the cooking progress of up to four cuts of meat, notifying you on your smart device when they are perfectly done.

BEER CHICKEN

Serves 4-6

Preparation time: 10 mins
Grill time: 1 hour 10 mins
Grill temperature: 180°C
Grill method: Indirect
Equipment: GBS Poultry Roaster
Core temperature: 75°C

INGREDIENTS

Rub

½ tsp fennel seeds
 1 tsp dried rosemary
 1 tsp dried thyme
 1 tsp garlic granules
 1 tsp pink peppercorns
 ½ tsp ground black pepper
 ½ tsp soft brown sugar
 ½ tsp sea salt

Tarragon butter

15g fresh tarragon
 ½ lemon
 50g unsalted butter
 salt & freshly ground black pepper
Chicken
 2kg whole free-range chicken
 1 tbs rapeseed oil
 1 can of dark stout beer
 2 cloves garlic, peeled

IN THE KITCHEN

1 First make the rub by finely grinding all the ingredients in a pestle and mortar.

2 Next make the tarragon butter by finely chopping the tarragon, holding back a single sprig. Zest half the lemon and add to the butter with the salt and pepper. Mix until well combined.

3 Using your fingers, feed the butter between the skin and flesh of the raw chicken taking care not to tear the skin. Lightly oil the exterior of the chicken and coat evenly with the rub.

4 Half fill the GBS Poultry Roaster cup with the dark stout beer. Add the garlic and remaining sprig of tarragon.

5 Firmly sit the chicken onto the GBS Poultry Roaster cup making sure it is stable and upright. Plug the neck cavity with a lemon wedge to help keep the scented steam in the chicken and stop it from escaping.

6 Add lightly oiled and seasoned baby root vegetables to the base of the Poultry Roaster if required.

AT THE BARBECUE

7 Prepare the barbecue for indirect heat (approx. 180°C). For a charcoal barbecue, use your chimney starter, half full, to light the briquettes.

8 Roast for approximately 1 hour 10 mins or until the meat has reached an internal temperature of 75°C.

Beer Chicken recipe created by Weber chefs

HOLY SMOKE

For a very different outdoor eating experience, look out for Traeger's Bronson wood pellet grill. Not only will you taste the distinctive smoky flavour, its 'set it and forget it' operation makes cooking as easy as using an oven, with no danger of flare-ups. A digital controller enables low-and-slow to hot-and-fast grilling. And you can smoke, bake, roast or braise as well as BBQ.

The grill works by using a rotating bit, or auger, to move hardwood pellets from the hopper to the fire pot underneath. The higher the temperature is set, the more pellets are dispersed. A hot rod ignites the pellets to create a fire to provide convection heat that evenly cooks the food on the grill. A drip tray sits over the fire pot keeping flames off the food. Cooking on the Bronson grill is easy, and the results taste simply delicious.

Traeger Bronson £449

Completely restore the natural colour to your patio, paths and garden stonework.

Patio Black Spot Remover kills lichen and lichen "black spots" in as little as 2 hours, which no amount of pressure washing fully removes! Restore patios, paths and garden stonework to like new, no matter how old the stone and at a fraction of the original cost to lay.

Patio Black Spot Preventer will keep it that way.

Love your lawn

Look after your grass like a pro, with these insider tips from our head lawnkeeper

Spring is the perfect time to pamper your lawn and prepare it for summer. So arm yourself with some expert know-how and come in store for everything you need to feed and weed your grass to maximise its strength and vigour. You'll find time-saving gadgets, such as the EverGreen Drop Spreader, which makes lawn care easier than ever, along with the latest nifty hand tools to help you keep on top of weeds and smarten edges.

Before you start, have a quick tidy up and remove any debris such as dead sticks, leaves and rubbish that may have gathered during the winter months.

Jobs to do
Aerating (above) and watering in warmer weather.

CUTTING

✔ Treat your lawn to its first trim a few weeks after temperatures rise above 15°C, when the grass starts growing again. Keep the blades on their highest setting at first. Cutting the grass too short, too soon (known as scalping) can leave it vulnerable to disease and weeds.

✔ In hot weather, keep the blades of the mower on their highest setting; longer grass copes better in a drought.

MOSS CONTROL

✔ Tackle moss by scarifying your lawn with a spring-tined rake. Ensure the blades reach down to the soil surface, and rake vigorously to remove all the dead grass and debris.

✔ Moss thrives in compacted, waterlogged soil, so aerate it with a regular garden fork, inserting the tines to a depth of 10-15cm (4-6in). Repeat so the whole lawn is spiked then top dress it with a free-draining compost mix, such as Westland Lawn Dressing.

✔ Alternatively, try EverGreen No Rake Moss Remover Lawn Food. It contains naturally occurring bacteria, which digest the dead moss, together with a feed that will keep your lawn nourished for up to three months and helps prevent moss regrowth.

FEEDING AND WATERING

✔ Feed and weed with Evergreen Complete 4 in 1, a dual-purpose fertiliser and lawn weedkiller. Water it in well or apply just before rain is forecast. Then, a fortnight after use, remove dead weeds with a spring-tined rake.

✔ If 2019 proves another scorcher, use water wisely. If watering with a sprinkler choose the cool early morning or evening when the moisture will evaporate more slowly. Repeat every 10 days. Don't worry if drought turns grass yellow; it is probably not dead and will soon green up again when rain returns.

CUTTING EDGE

A half moon edging tool will keep your lawn in shape

REPAIR

For a level surface, reduce bumps by inserting a spade under the turf and rolling it back. Remove or add soil as required, then replace the turf. Water the repaired area well.

Where wear and tear has resulted in bare or worn patches, sow over the damaged areas with MiracleGro Patch Magic. Rake the area smooth first, sow the seed, then cover with birdproof netting. Water regularly.

QUICK TRIM

Sharp grass shears are useful for tidying the edges

Herb haven

Create a space for growing herbs, and infuse your cooking with freshly picked flavours

Nothing beats the pleasure of being able to pop outside to pick fresh herbs from your own home-grown plants. Be inventive with your outside space. Try planting a single basil, parsley or coriander plant in a small pot. They don't need much space to grow, and while parsley and coriander tend to die down in winter you'll find they self-seed.

Larger herbs, such as bay, sage, rosemary and thyme, which live for many years, will need bigger pots. Or plant into a bed or border – most herbs thrive in a sunny site and like free-draining compost or soil. The exception is mint, which prefers part shade. Plant it in a pot of its own, not in the ground, as it's invasive and will spread rapidly.

Rosemary

Thyme

Purple sage

TEMPTING TIERS

Pack in lots of herb pots onto a patio or balcony by standing them on a step ladder. This allows all the plants to bask in the sun, and makes the leaves easy to pick, as they are close to hand.

HERB PALLET

Why not create a herb wall by painting up a wooden pallet? Use a staple gun to fix a double layer of landscape fabric on the back and screw on a piece of timber along the bottom. Fill with compost and plant.

7 essential herbs for cooking

Boost the flavours of your favourite dishes

CORIANDER

An annual that will self seed; best grown in a pot.

Cooking tip

Add fresh leaves to Thai stir-fry dishes and curries.

MINT

Keep this herb in a pot of its own, as it spreads quickly.

Cooking tip

Use to add zing to a Pimms or to flavour potatoes.

PARSLEY

Grow in a pot; the leaves are best on young plants.

Cooking tip

Partner it with white fish or use fresh as a garnish.

SAGE

Plant in a big pot or in a bed for leaves year after year.

Cooking tip

Add it to meat stews and roasts, and in risottos.

BAY

Bay trees make beautiful decorative features on a patio or in the garden, and the leaves have many uses too.

Cooking tip

Include bay leaves in a bouquet garni for soups or stews, or pop them in bottles of vinegar or oil to add flavour.

ROSEMARY

Ideal for a large pot, or plant in the middle of a border.

Cooking tip

Add to roast meat dishes or veggie bean stews.

THYME

Perfect for a pot or as an edging plant for a flower bed.

Cooking tip

Try in vegetarian moussaka or with white fish or lamb.

WESTLAND
ARE GARDENING

Which fertiliser do I need?

Feeding your plants the right food at the right time will give them a real boost. Make the right choice with our handy all-you-need-to-know guide

JARGON BUSTING

NPK These letters on bags of fertiliser represent the three main plant nutrients: nitrogen (N), which promotes healthy leaves; phosphorus (P), essential for good root growth; and potassium (K), needed for abundant flowers and fruits. The numbers indicate the ratio of these nutrients present.

POTASH Another term for potassium (K) rich fertilisers, such as tomato feed.

ERICACEOUS This means 'acidic' and describes the soil conditions preferred by plants such as camellias, blueberries and rhododendrons. Use Westland's Sulphate of Iron or another fertiliser designed for ericaceous plants.

BONE MEAL

Its high proportion of phosphorus (NPK 4:20:0) supports strong root growth, which makes Bone Meal the perfect choice when you want to establish new plants and trees. Using a fork, work into the top layer of soil when you are planting new trees, shrubs and flowering plants, then water it in. It is a slow-release fertiliser, so will release its goodness over the whole growing season. Adding mycorrhizal fungi as well, when you are planting, will help the growing roots absorb minerals and water from the soil.

FISH, BLOOD & BONE

Made from natural products, Fish, Blood & Bone also contains a high proportion of phosphorus, which is responsible for good root growth (NPK 4:7:4). It is particularly effective during the first couple of years of a plant or tree's growth. Like Bone Meal, Fish, Blood & Bone should be worked into the top layer of the soil, and watered well after applying.

GROWMORE

This contains the three major plant nutrients (nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium) in equal proportions (NPK 7:7:7), making it a good all-round feed for established plants. The even nutrient balance encourages even growth stimulation in all parts of the plants, which means plenty of fruit and flowers, healthy foliage and stronger roots. It should be applied every

Q: What can I use to maximise my crops while still being organic?

Chicken Manure Pellets are the equivalent of adding Growmore if you wish to garden organically. They will provide the main nutrients plants need to stay healthy all year round. Sprinkle on the soil in early spring when preparing beds, then again 3-4 weeks after planting. You can also use the pellets in autumn when clearing and preparing vegetable beds

for next spring.
To boost blooms,
treat your flowers to great results.
